SHALON PAINTS

(Registered in U. S. Patent Office.)

- Reasons for its use:
- 1st. It is made of the best materials which are carefully selected and ground by modern machinery in pure Linseed Oil.
  - 2nd. It has great density or hiding power and works freely under the brush.
  - 3rd. Its composition is based upon scientific methods and every gallon is uniform in texture and quality.
  - 4th. The coloring matter used to produce the different shades is of the highest quality, assuring richness in tone and permanence in color.
  - 5th. It will not chalk or powder; nor will it peel or blister.
  - 6th. It will require one gallon of pure Linseed Oil to thin each gallon of Paint, thus reducing the cost to a minimum.
  - 7th. It gains by comparison.

Color Cards upon request.

STAR PITCHER WEDS A VIRGINIA GIRL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Special.—Russell Ford, star pitcher of the New York American League club, was married last evening at 9 o'clock to Miss Mary H. Bethell, of Danville, Va., the Rev. G. W. Van Fassen, of the Trinity Episcopal Church, performing the ceremony. The marriage was the outcome of a love affair which started some time ago, the player having known his bride for several years. It is understood that the marriage had been planned to take place in this city, and that his bride came here Thursday from her home. Mrs. Ford is from one of the most prominent and oldest families in the South. The pair left for New York, where Ford is scheduled to pitch against the Nationals today.

If ex-Presidents in the future don't behave themselves better than the present-day variety, nothing will remain but to turn them over to Dr. Oster as soon as they leave White House.—Chase City Progress.

With The Editors

Between Bryan and Ryan there is in one respect but the difference of a letter. But between the two men as the poles are apart. And yet both claim to be good Democrats.—Petersburg Progress.

After all the difference between Bryan and Ryan is very small. In fact, it is only one letter.—Times-Herald.

Nobody could have said enough to make either Ryan or Bryan resign as delegates.—Ledger-Dispatch.

The latest thing is an electric farm, and the Charleston News and Courier makes the shocking suggestion that they raise currents there.—Herald-Courier.

There may be more interest in politics than in business, also more fun, but everybody knows which yields the most money to the man out of office.—Index-Appal.

The saddest words that man can utter is "30 cents for a pound of butter."—Staunton Leader.

It is now planned to boom New York as a summer resort. His Satanic Majesty will no doubt watch the experiment with interest.—Virginian-Pilot.

The Milwaukee Physicians' Association wish a law enacted to prohibit kissing. What's the use? No one would wish to kiss a Milwaukee physician any way.—Blackstone Courier.

Maybe those Cuban revolutionary negroes imagine that they are all Jack Johnson.—Rural Retreat Times.

If Roosevelt has really caused the death of the G. O. P., let's give the devil his dues.—Farmville Herald.

Mr. McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, must have been born in Mecklenburg county, N. C., or some of his ancestors were. He is a champion claimer.—Danville Register.

The writer who said that Roosevelt is trying to capitalize in his own behalf the popular discontent, has got him down fine.—Chase City Progress.

China has refused a loan of $300,000,000, evidently not going away this summer at all.—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Unless Hon. J. Taylor Eliason hastens to declare himself a progressive he will be very lonesome on the new national committee.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

If one woman can stampede a convention, what may we expect when equal suffrage comes.—Newport News Times-Herald.

Since the Government started its money washing machine very little is heard of "tainted money."—Blackstone Courier.

They who live by the "steam roller" may some day perish by the ballot.—Washington County Journal.
